HERBi is a free interactive online tool that helps higher education institutions to understand the quantitative and qualitative costs and benefits of sharing services.

Model up to five institutions in three different shared services scenarios

- Admissions, registry and student administration
- Residences, retail and campus services
- Library services
- Student support services
- Financial services
- Human resources
- ICT services
- Estates and facilities
- Conferences and events

HERBi, the Higher Education Realisation of Benefits interactive tool, has been funded by the Higher Education Funding Council for England and developed by Falmouth Exeter Plus, the shared services delivery partner of the University of Exeter and Falmouth University.
